Defence Budget rises 5%, pension spend zooms

AJAI SHUKLA

The defence Budget for the year 2020-21 has been raised by just 5 per cent over the current year's revised allocations, continuing a multi-year trend of steadily reducing the share of defence spending as a percentage of the government's total outlay.

Finance Minister Nirmala Sitharaman, herself a former defence minister, has allocated ₹471,378 crore to defence, an increase of ₹22,558 crore over the current year's Revised Estimate of ₹448,820 crore. This includes the outlay for revenue and capital expenditure, as well as military pensions.

This amounts to 15.5 per cent of the government's total spending of ₹30.42 trillion next year. That share of government spending is significantly lower than this year's share of 16.6 per cent, the 17.4 per cent share in 2018-19 and the 17.7 per cent in 2017-18.

Despite the large number of weapons systems due for procurement, the capital allocation has been raised only marginally from ₹115,350 crore in the current year to ₹118,534 crore in 2020-21. That rise of less than 3 per cent is insufficient to even cover inflation and forex rate slip-

ALLOCATION OVER THE YEARS

	2017-18 (Actual)	2018-19 (Actual)	2019-20 (RE)	2020-21 (BE)
Revenue allocation	1.92	2.02	2.16	2.19
Capital allocation	0.95	0.99	1.15	1.18
Pension allocation	0.92	1.01	1.18	1.34
Total defence budget	3.8	4.03	4.49	4.71
Total govt spending	21.41	23.15	26.98	30.42
Defence as percentage of govt spending (%)	17.7	17.4	16.6	15.5

pages. The military will, therefore, have less buying power next year.

Worryingly, the only appreciable rise in spending is in defence pensions, for which the allocation has risen by almost 14 per cent to ₹133,825 crore for 2020-21. This raise comes on the back of an even larger 16 per cent raise this year, over the 2018-19 pension allocation.

Since the grant of "one rank, one pension" in 2015-16, the military pension budget has more than doubled from the level of ₹60,000 crore in 2015-16.

The Indian Air Force (IAF) has again been allocated the lion's share of the capital allocations — ₹43,282 crore, much of which will go towards instalments on earlier procurements, such as the 36 Rafale fighters that will begin delivery this year. However, this is lower than the IAF's allocation of ₹44,869 crore in the current year's Revised Estimates.

There is disappointment for the Navy, which has received a flat capital allocation of ₹29,188 crore, despite public statements from senior admirals, including Navy chief Admiral Karambir Singh, seeking a larger share of the defence budget.

Without that, the Navy says it will be in no position to process important procurements — such as the production of six advanced submarines under Project 75I and the building of a second indigenous aircraft carrier to follow INS Vikrant, which Cochin Shipyard is likely to deliver next year.

The Army has got the largest hike in capital spending, but this 8 per cent rise of ₹2,669 crore will be insufficient to pay for the artillery guns, tanks and air defence systems the Army badly requires.

We have shown both vision & action: PM

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA

Asserting that the Union Budget will accelerate the economic growth, financially empower every citizen and strengthen the foundation of the economy in the new decade, Prime Minister Narendra Modi on Saturday heaped praise on it for having both "vision and action".

He also said provision of faceless appeal, new and simple structure of direct tax, move towards unified procurement system, stress on disinvestment are some of the steps which will reduce the government out of people's lives and will enhance their "ease of living".

"I believe that this Budget will increase income and investment, increase demand and consumption, bring new vigour in the financial system and credit flow," he said. The Budget, Modi noted, will meet the current needs of the country as well as the future expectations in the decade.

"The new reforms announced in the Budget will work to accelerate the economy, financially empower every citizen of the country and strengthen the foundation of the economy in this decade," Modi said in his comments.

Noting that the main areas of employment are agriculture, infrastructure, textiles and technology, he said the four have been given great emphasis in the Budget to increase employment generation. Referring to the Centre's efforts to double the income of farmer, he said 16 action points have been created which will serve to increase employment in rural areas.

Integrated approach has been adopted for the agriculture sector in the Budget, which along with traditional methods will increase value addition in horticulture, fisheries, animal husbandry and also increase employment, he said.

"Under the Blue Economy, the youth will also get new opportunities in the field of fish processing and marketing," Modi noted. According to the World Bank, the blue economy is the sustainable use of ocean resources for economic growth, improved livelihoods, and jobs while preserving the health of ocean ecosystem.

The prime minister said new mission for technical textile has been announced. Man-made fibre has been reformatting into the duty structure of its raw material to be produced in India.
